SCIENCE EXPLORERS: SECONDARY PROGRAMME

The Secondary Science programme focuses on reinforcing core concepts taught in school to lay the groundwork for stretching students further by infusing questions that require critical and inventive thinking throughout our curriculum.

We believe that Science is best learnt through experience and seeing how it is applied in everyday lives. Thus, scenario-based learning takes centre stage here in Learning Point's Science programme. These approaches are explicitly linked to related topics within the GCE O/A-Levels Science syllabus, making the connection clear to students and helping to facilitate students' understanding in the subject matter.

Relevant articles and videos are brought up in class for discussion to help students connect between knowledge and applications in everyday life as well as to broaden their breadth and depth in Science. Scientific discoveries that are beyond the syllabus are also weaved into lessons to stimulate their interest in learning Science.

At Learning Point, we engage students in meaningful co-construction of knowledge, as well as applying appropriate techniques in data-analysis to solve problems that require application of concepts learnt. This helps not only to prepare students for examinations but to equip them with lifelong learning skills too.
